Reveille

1960

The 1960 Reveille is dedicated to

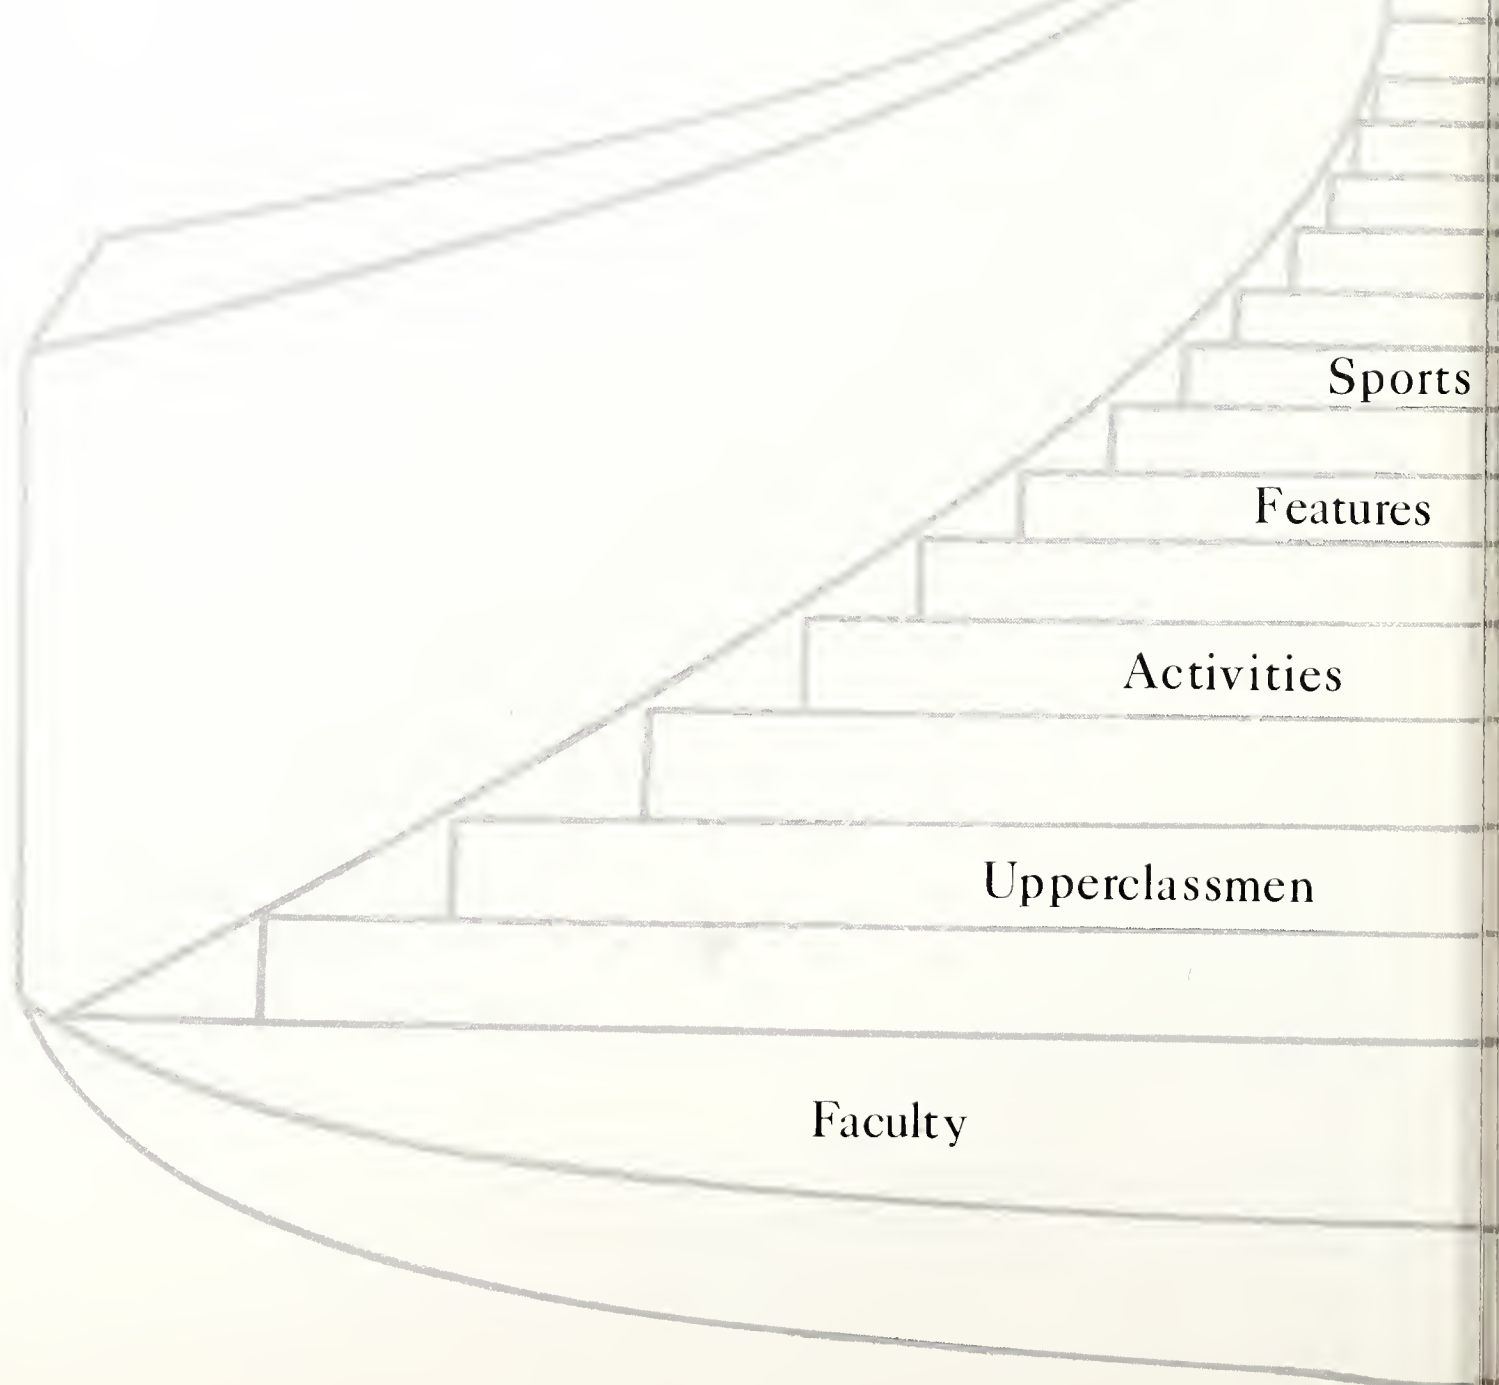

C. D. RICHARDS,
professor of social science

Since his arrival in 1940 from the University of Texas, Professor Richards has been an outstanding member of the faculty at Arlington State College. In addition to his academic work, he has served in many advisory capacities to student and faculty organizations. He is remembered by hundreds of ex-students as the sponsor of sophomore classes over a period of many years. He has contributed greatly to the building of the stairway to future greatness for Arlington State College. The Reveille appreciates this opportunity to honor him.

Stairway to the Future. . .

Our stairway represents a progression from the old to the new--from the past of Arlington College, Carlisle Military, Grubbs Vocational, N T A C, and Arlington State as a junior college to the new Arlington State as a senior college. . .

The purpose of the 1960 Reveille is to connect the old with the new by portraying the present.

President Jack R. Woolf of Arlington State College .
Inaugurated February 27, 1960

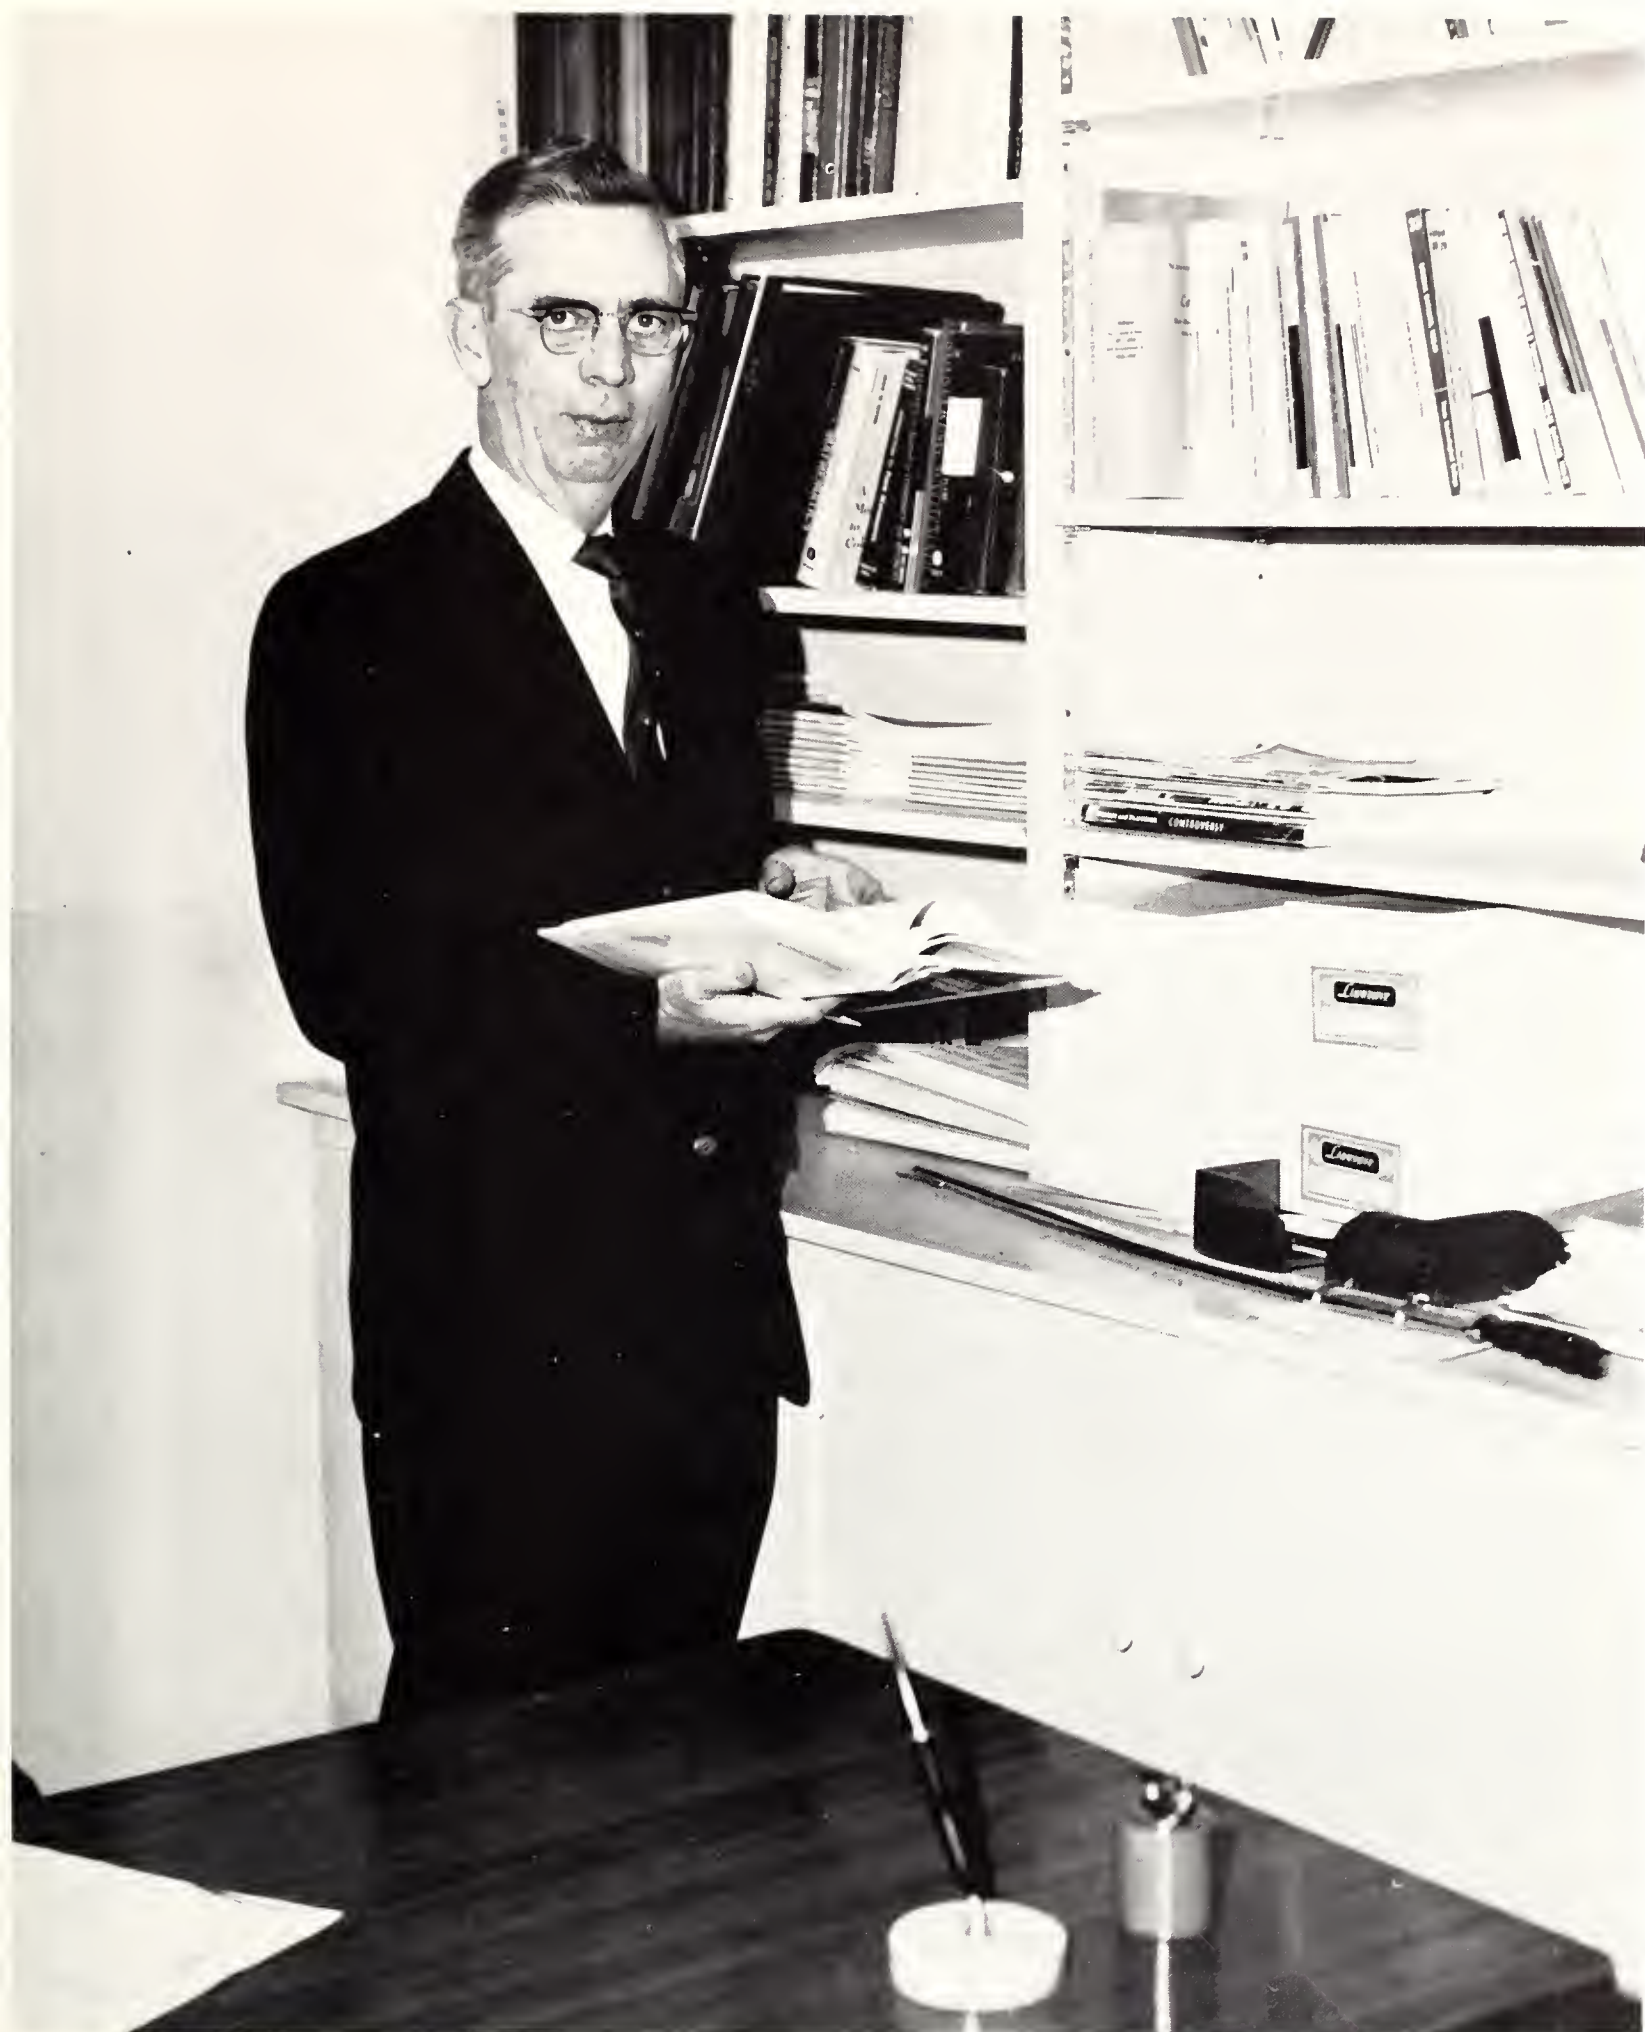

Marion Thomas Harrington
Chancellor
The Texas A & M
College System

This year, as Arlington State College begins its program of service to higher education in Texas as a senior college, all of us within the Texas A. and M. College System salute you and look to a great future for your school.

I am confident that as a senior college Arlington State will add luster to its past record of service; that it will bring more reason for justifiable pride to all associated with it; that it will meet its future obligations as it has met its past duties.

It is always a pleasure to extend my personal good wishes to the students and faculty of Arlington State College. With them go those of the staff of the Texas A. and M. College System.

The Inaugural Portrait of President Woolf

THE INAUGURATION OF A COLLEGE PRESIDENT...

Arlington State College celebrated the inauguration of its second president, Dr. Jack Royce Woolf, with formal academic ceremonies February 27, 1960. The academic procession, with President Woolf and Chancellor Harrington leading the way, marches to Inaugural Exercises.

Delegates from Southwestern colleges and universities, representatives of learned and professional societies, and the Arlington State faculty converge at the E. H. Hereford Student Center for the colorful ceremony.

The Arlington State College Choir and Lab Band, under the direction of Professor Dan Burkholder, present Alma Mater during Inaugural Exercises.

Dr. E. C. Barksdale, head of the department of social science, introduces...

Dr. Edwin D. Harrison, president of the Georgia Institute of Technology, who delivered the Inaugural Address.

Dr. M. T. Harrington, chancellor of the Texas A&M College System, conferred the rank of president on Dr. Woolf in the formal Act of Inauguration.

Dr. Harrington reads the official proclamation of the board of directors and delivers the charge of office.

The new president, in his response, outlines the aims and aspirations of the College by proclaiming the motto: "Pride Without Satisfaction."

Six hundred delegates, guests, and faculty members gather at an inaugural luncheon honoring Dr. Woolf at conclusion of exercises installing him as the second president of the College.

H. A. D. Dunsworth, acting dean of the school of arts and sciences, introduces noted historian Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, who blends wit, experience, and eloquence in the luncheon address.

Duncan Robinson, head of Arlington State's English Department, brings greetings to luncheon guests from the faculty.

H. A. D. Dunsworth, acting dean of the school of arts and sciences, introduces noted historian Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, who blends wit, experience, and eloquence in the luncheon address.

Duncan Robinson, head of Arlington State's English Department, brings greetings to luncheon guests from the faculty.

Reveille Staff

In the 1960 Reveille, the staff has attempted to portray the Arlington State College of today against the background of the past. The staff is proud to present this first senior college yearbook to the student body in the knowledge that the 1960 Reveille makes up part of the stepping stone to a great future for Arlington State College.

Dallas Soph Appointed
1960 Reveille Editor

Gennie Sumner, sophomore, was elected editor of the Dallas Reveille.

In the spring of 1959, the Texas Legislature elevated Arlington State College to senior college rank. On the following pages The Reveille salutes members of the Legislature from Dallas and Tarrant Counties who were instrumental in securing passage of enacting legislation favorable to the College. Not pictured are Representative John L. Crosthwait, of Dallas, and Representative Yale Lary, of Fort Worth, both of whom supported Arlington State's senior college bid in the Texas House of Representatives.

Senator George Parkhouse -- Dallas

Members of the legislative delegations from Dallas and Tarrant Counties co-sponsored Senate and House bills raising the college to senior status. Senators Parkhouse and Willis, who have held long tenure in the Texas Senate, have been identified with the cause of Arlington State at Austin for years.

On a misty night the lights playing on the Administration Building present a scene strangely like daylight.

Three engineers window shop for slide rules and other tools of the trade.

Killing time, a favorite sport on campus, at one of the favorite spots, in front of the Student Center.

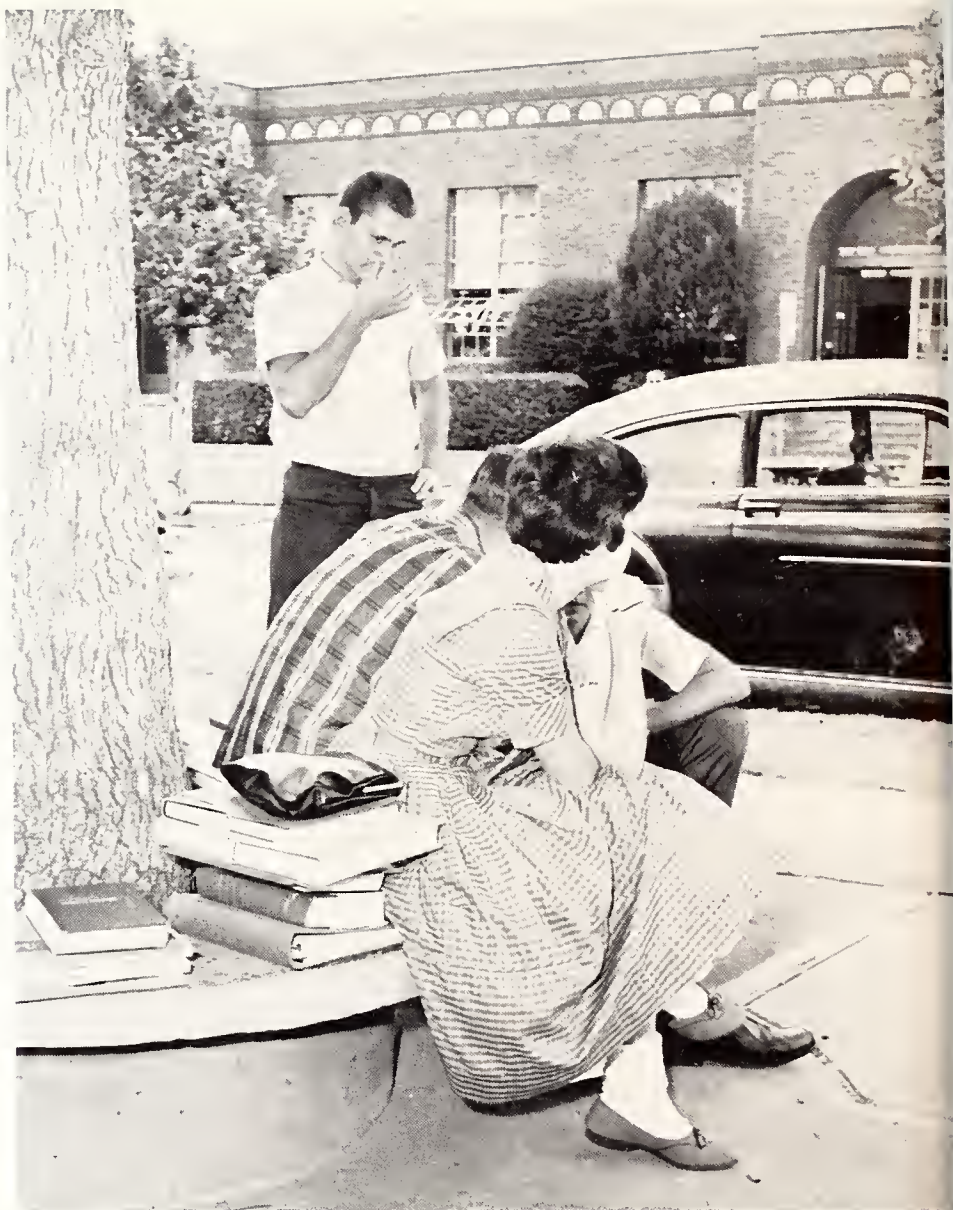

Mr. and Miss Rebel Spirit, Charles Yeager and Dianna Kraft, ride in the homecoming parade.

In a tough, hard fought basketball game with Texas Wesleyan, the Rebels closed their season with a 76-74 victory.

The Rebels were able to stave off a last minute rally by the Rams when Sam Fountain sank two free throws with seven seconds left to play.

The Rebels lost their second game of the season to Stephen F. Austin 59-71. The high spirited Lumberjacks were never in trouble.

In ASC's second game at the senior level, the Rebels were downed by a sharpshooting Stephen F. Austin giant, 85-76. All through the game, the Rebels never seriously threatened the more experienced Jacks who combined a sharp eye and aggressive defense to win.

Jay Hawley and Willie Baker wrestle for a rebound in their 53-54 loss at the hands of Sam Houston State.

The Rebels fell victim to last minute jitters and allowed the visitors to overcome a Rebel lead in the waning seconds.

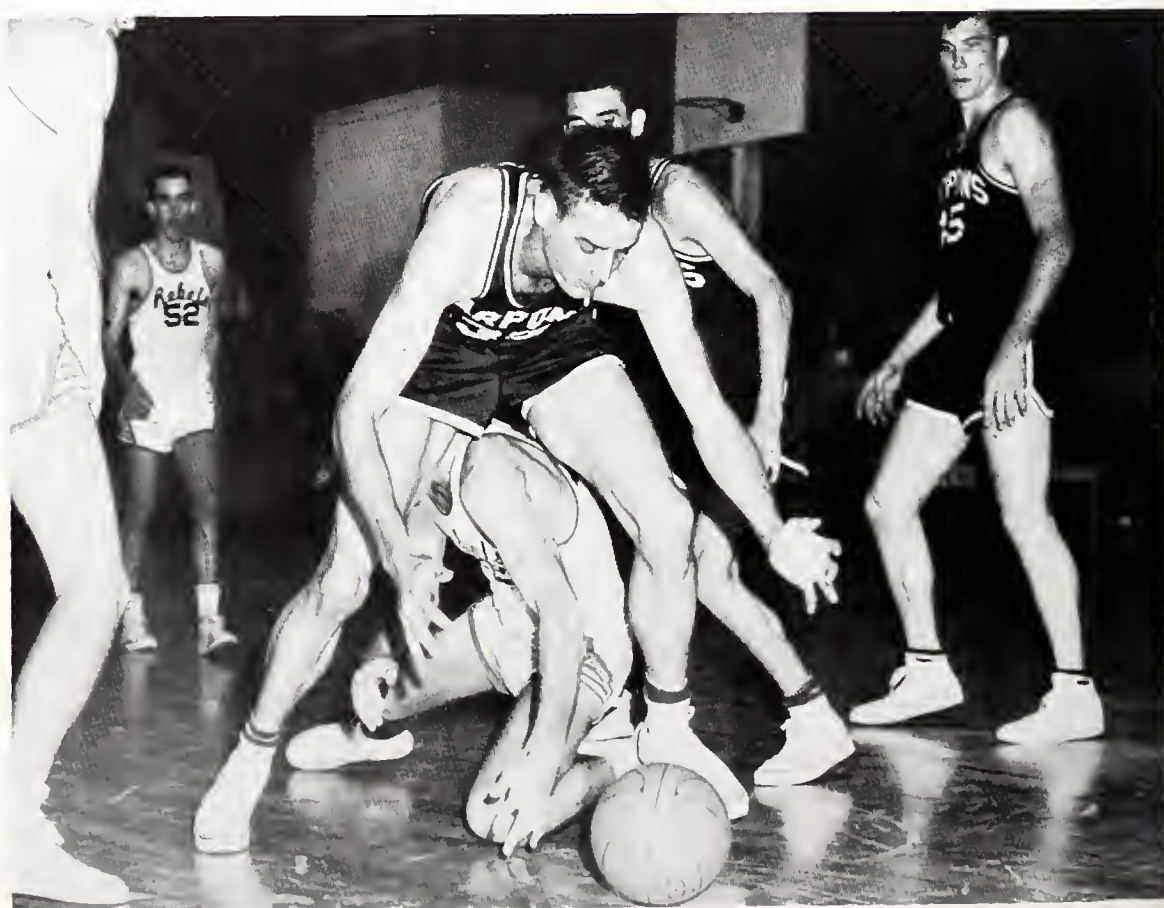

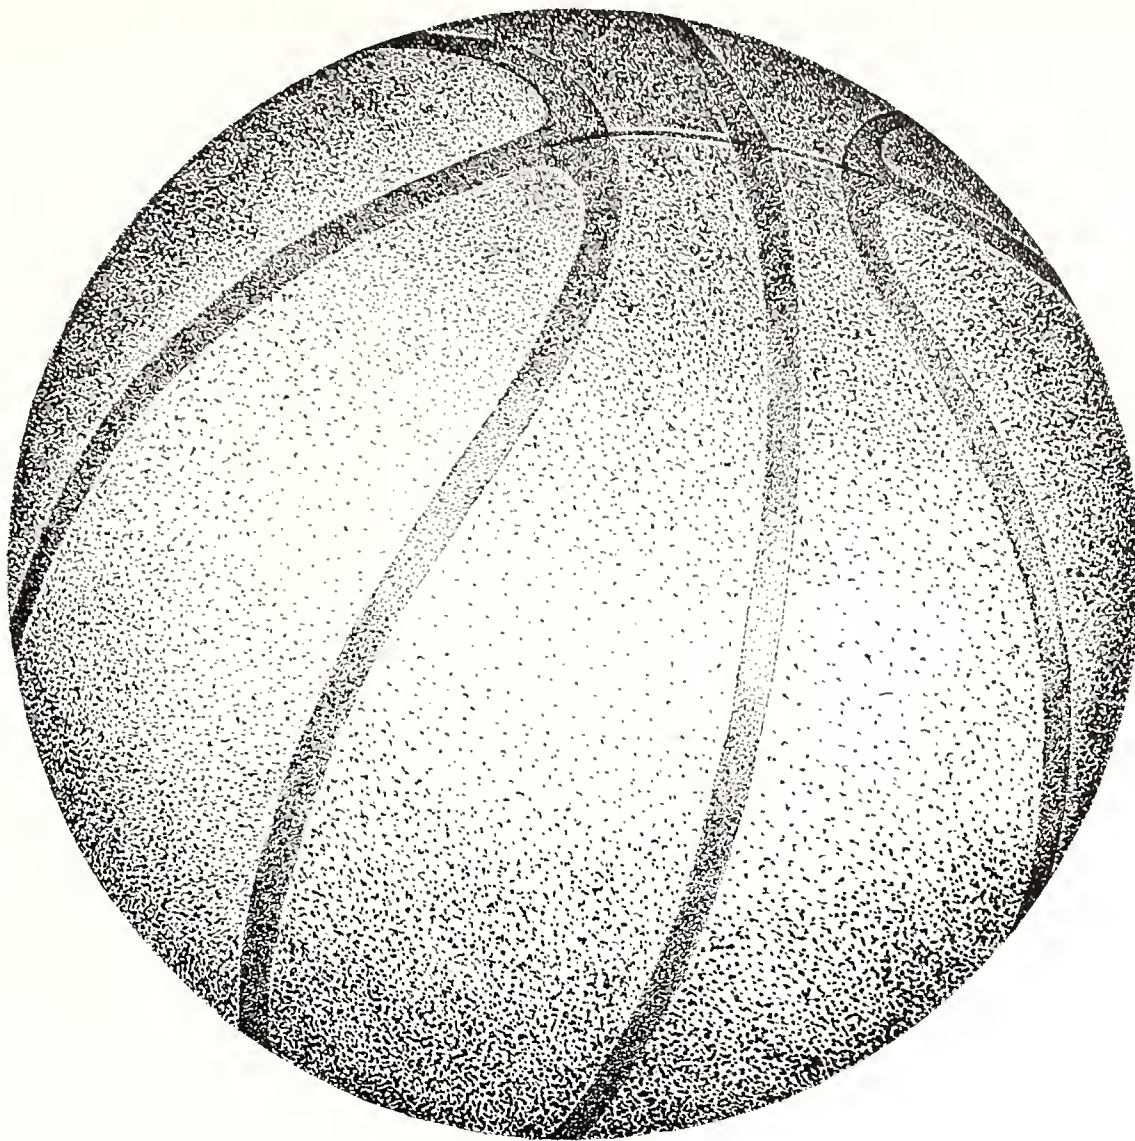

In their first nip and tuck TWC game the Rebels played catch up for most of the way. They reduced the Ram lead to one point with one minute remaining in the game, but several fouls added to TWC's lead.

The Confederates avenged their loss on the final night of the season with a 76-74 victory.

The Corpus Christi Tarpons, with a fast offense and a determined defense, outlasted the Confederates in an 82-62 game. Jay Hawley led the Rebels with eight baskets from the floor and six free throws, while Sam Fountain scored fifteen points.

*It's all in a day
at Arlington State...*

featuring a typical day in the lives of an A S C coed and her date.

Wanda Grant and Guinn Smith, personable
Arlington State students, were selected by Reveille staffers to be models for a picture story of a day in the lives of typical students on campus.

The day proved to be amusing, exciting, hectic, and frustrating. "Very typical," said both Wanda and Guinn after staff photographers had snapped shutters for the last time.

What the camera caught of the day can be seen on the following pages.

This is our average coed, Wanda Grant, returning to the dorm from a weekend at home with her parents.

Next we find Wanda examining her clothes and wondering what she has left at home.

Later in the afternoon Wanda finds it necessary to study.

As an oddity, some girls find more positions in which to study.

Guinn Smith rises early in the morning...

and makes his bed.

It takes a picture to prove a boy can sweep a floor.

Wanda gets up early in the morning so that she will have plenty of time to dress and put on her make-up.

Leaving the dorm to attend class with Wanda is Mary Jane Skubas, Melba Hiser, Joy Cheairs, and Patti Patterson.

Wanda's music teacher tries to teach her how to play the piano.

Wanda and Guinn talk...

and laugh about the passed weekend between classes.

Later in the morning, Guinn and his friend Aubrey Jones, enjoy a game of ping-pong.

Wanda, along with Shirley Hunter, is getting badminton instructions from her teacher, Mrs. Simmons.

As many students do, Wanda meets Guinn after class in front of the Student Center.

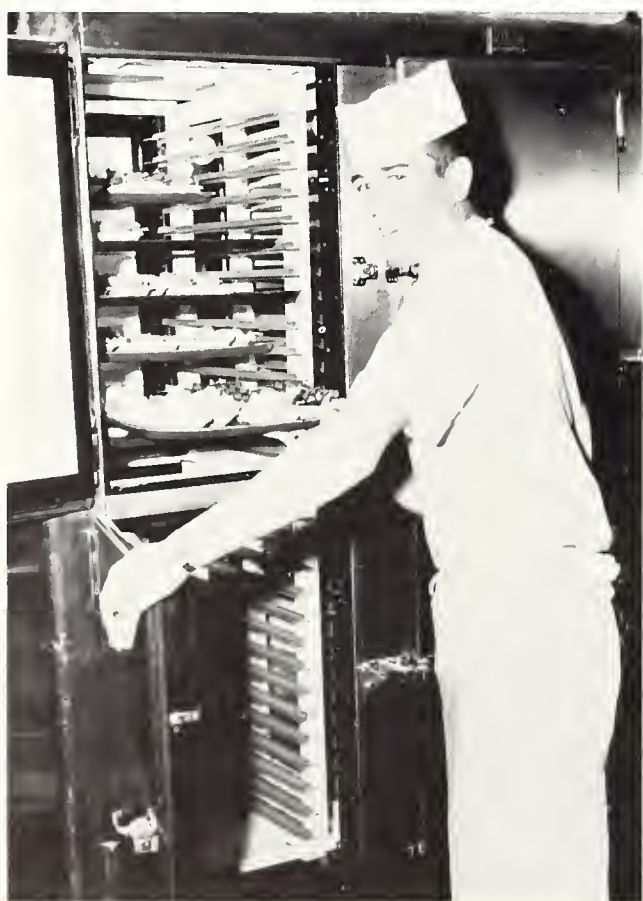

Over a cup of coffee and a Dr. Pepper, Guinn and Wanda talk about the previous class.

At eleven each day Guinn goes to the cafeteria to work. Here he is serving Leta Denning.

As usual, Guinn removes a tray of steaming glasses from the dish washer.

One of Guinn's favorite jobs is fixing the salads. (So that's where all the salads go!!)

Wanda is showing Charles Horton what she would like to eat, as Beverly Barton and Marilyn Wilkeson look on.

As many students do every day, Wanda pays Mrs. Smallwood for her lunch.

After lunch, Wanda has time to spend with her friends, as she is doing here. Billy Pinkerton is teasing her about her poem which he has just read.

Rooked Again! Up stairs in the lounge of the Student Center, Guinn deposits the money and Wanda chooses the music.

Rooked or not, Guinn still enjoys dancing with Wanda to the music she chose.

After an enjoyable afternoon of dancing and laughing together, Guinn and Wanda descend the stairs.

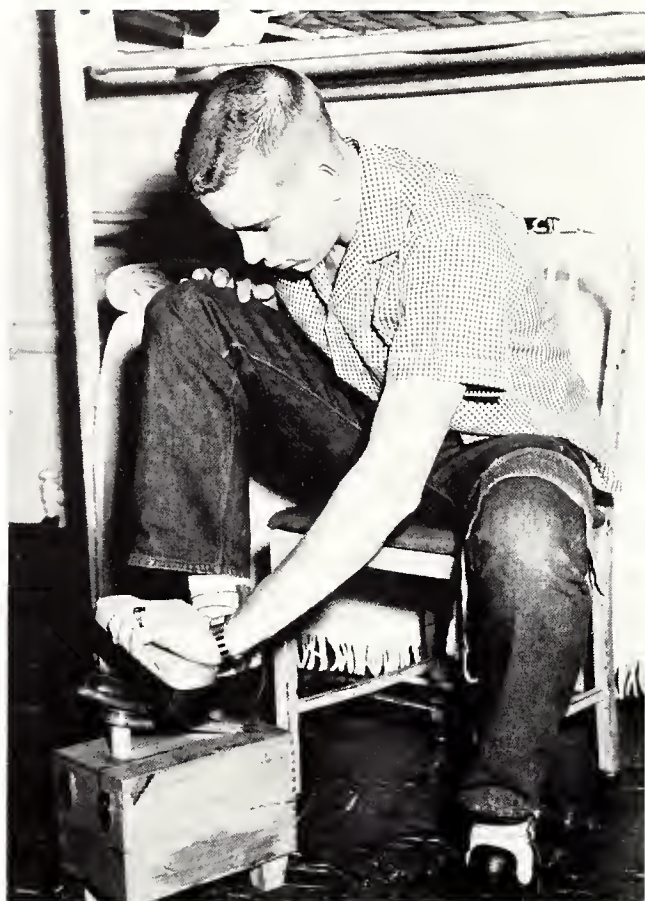

At the dorm Wanda signs in, as do all the girls when they leave or return to the dorm. Mrs. Seaton, always friendly, says hello to Wanda.

The phone rings and Wanda hears someone yell, "Telephone Wanda." Wanda answers and it was Guinn wanting a date and her answer as you can see is yes.

Just before supper, Wanda takes time to play cards with her friends Mary Jane Skubas, Patti Patterson, Melba Hiser, and Jean Stogsdill.

After studying, Guinn polishes his shoes to a shine that you could see your reflection in.

Guinn discovers one of the necessary evils of college is studying.

Later Guinn finds time to have a friendly game of dominoes with Reb Faulkner, Charles Harrington, and Jerry Cook.

Before taking Wanda out for the evening, Guinn discovers he MUST shave.

In order to look her best for Guinn, Wanda has to iron a blouse accompanied by Kennette Harrison.

Finally the time has come, Guinn ascends the stairs to get Wanda.

As do the many boys who come to pick up their dates, Guinn asks Mrs. Seaton to buzz Wanda.

As Guinn helps Wanda on with her coat, she looks at him with a warm smile.

For their date, Wanda and Guinn have decided to go to the picture show at the Arlington.

The Doorman takes the tickets from Guinn as they enter the theatre to see CASH McCALL.

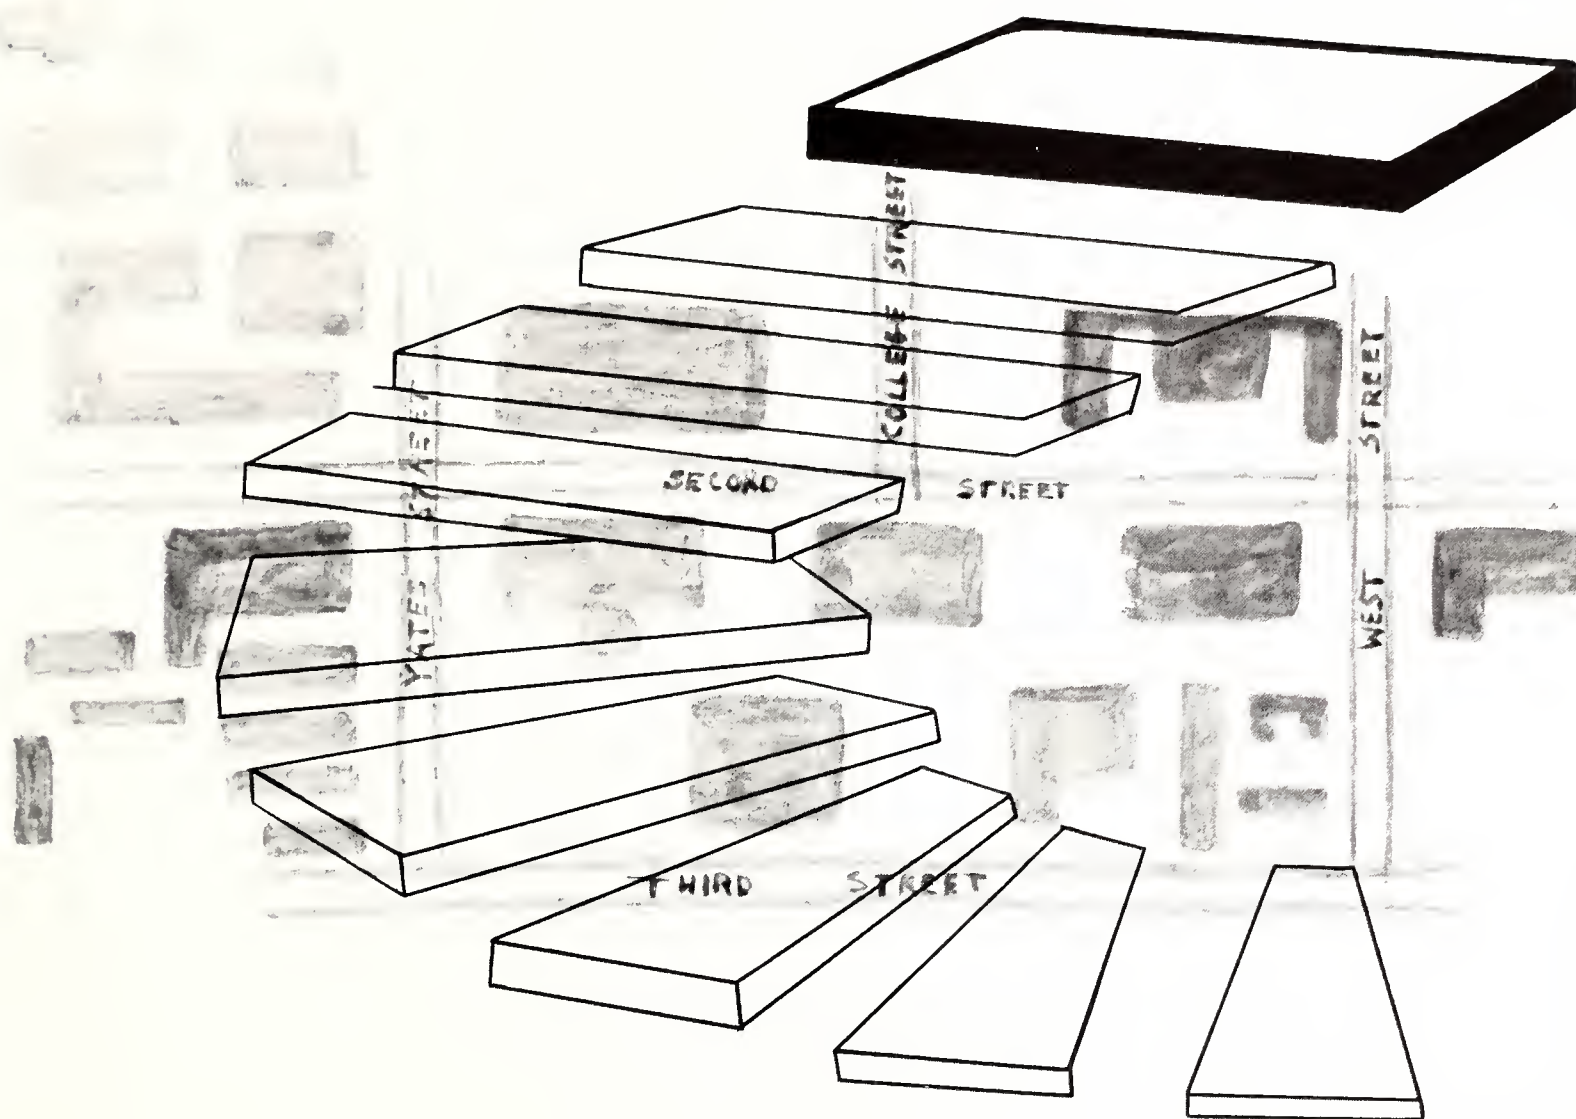

Before going to find a seat, Guinn and Wanda get a box of popcorn to enjoy during the show.

After the show and the popcorn, Guinn and Wanda go to the Jim Dandy drive inn for a coke.

Guinn, Wanda, and the Reville staff say,
"GOOD-NIGHT!"

The Reveille Staff has accompanied you, the student body, up the stairways of progress of Arlington State College. The remaining stairs of the staircase are in the hands of the future students of Arlington State in the years to come.
